Parramatta V Eastern Suburbs

WHAT DO FOOTBALL PLAYERS AND TREE WORKERS HAVE IN COMMON?

We recognise that the skills you have developed playing the code are the same skills that are highly sought after in our industry.

Would you like to partner Australia's largest tree maintenance company and become a contract tree trimmer, driver/chipper operator with excellent earnings potential?

A minimum five days per week work is available in the Sydney Metro area.

Experience is not necessary as we will provide essential training and the opportunity for recognised industry qualifications.

A Medium Rigid drivers licence would be an advantage.

If you are interested in working long term contracts and being rewarded financially for the work that you do, then contact:

Finals Time

Greg Stock assesses the form of the Super League 2000 finals series contenders (and familiar soccer names in New South Wales) - Blacktown, Bonnyrigg, Leichhardt, St George and Parramatta Eagles.

BLACKTOWN CITY

The semi-finals record of Blacktown City is the envy of all the other clubs in the league. Since the establishment of the Super League competition in 1992 the Demons have appeared in all bar one year of the semi-finals series. That is an imposing record when you also consider the Demons have also made the Grand Final on five of those seven occasions lifting the trophy twice.

In the past two seasons the Demons have been almost unbeatable winning all three semi-final appearances last season and losing just the Major Semi-Final to Bonnyrigg on the way to the 1998 championship. Their rivalry with Bonnyrigg at the business end of the competition started way back in 1992 when Bonnyrigg were known as Avala. Defeating them 1-0 in the Major Semi-Final, Blacktown advanced to meet them again in the Grand Final two weeks later only to lose that match 2-0.

From the 1998 championship team there are only a handful of names still playing in the Demons ranks. Skipper Damien Foxe, goalkeeper Fernando Greco, defender Paul Yates and midfielders Damien Brown and Damon Langan have formed the backbone of the side over that three year period. It's been a strong recruitment policy as well as their depth in juniors which has kept the Demons at the forefront of the Super League competition and one not lost on the myriad of opponents desperate to knock them off their perch.

Last season's Super League coach of the year, John Turner, believes the Demons have what it takes to take another trophy back to the Gabbie.

"They are a very well organised side, very physical but extremely well organised. They have recruited well with Jason Connolly and Zlatko Donev giving them extra depth and they have this uncanny ability to be able to lift when required in big games."

As for a player to watch John Turner settles on Mark Hagger.

"He has proven this season to be one of the best strikers in the game and if he can hold that form in the big games the Demons will be hard to beat."

BONNYRIGG WHITE EAGLES

Bonnyrigg (or Avala as they were then known) were a part of the first Super League semi-final series way back in 1992. In fact they were the first team to lift the new Super League Grand Final trophy defeating Blacktown City 2-0 at Marconi Stadium. It would be another 5 seasons before they had another chance in the semi-finals when coach John Turner took them to two succesive semi-final series in 1997 and 1998.

In 1997 the White Eagles beat Leichhardt 2-0 in the Preliminary Semi-Final before losing to Parramatta Eagles 4-1 in the Major Semi-Finals. Forced to fight out another sudden death Preliminary Final against Leichhardt the side won that match 2-1 and lined up against Parramatta again in the Grand Final. The result was almost a carbon copy of their first meeting when they lost the Grand Final 3-1 to the Eagles, then coached by their current mentor Doug Utjesenovic.

A year later, Bonnyrigg went one better winning the Minor Premiership and following up that success by beating Blacktown City 1-0 in the Major Semi-Final. But that result was reversed in the Grand Final as coach John Turner watched his side lose 1-0 to the Demons via a Stuart Cleary goal. Last season also marked another opportunity for Bonnyrigg to make a play for the championship after winning the Minor Premiership for the second successive time.

Their former coach John Turner knows Bonnyrigg better than anybody and he feels that the young guns hold the key to their chances.

"Bonnyrigg are a very youthful side and hopefully they won't crack through lack of experience. Robert Gomez could be a big asset to the side if he can roll his sleeves up and get more involved, especially with his tremendous pace. Up front Colin Luff will always be a big danger in front of goals if he can get some good ball from the midfield."

Former Canterbury coach John Xipolitas agrees.

"Bonnyrigg are a good chance to upset the Demons if they can use their pace in the midfield and get the ball quickly and efficiently to Colin Luff. If they can do that they give themselves a big chance to at least get to the Grand Final."

LEICHHARDT TIGERS

A side with a rich history in NSW soccer, the Tigers are a team who haven't appeared in a Super League semi-finals since 1997. In that campaign their season stopped just one game short of the Grand Final when they were beaten 2-1 by Bonnyrigg in the Preliminary Final. In the run up to that game the Tigers had lost to the White Eagles previously in the Preliminary Semi-final but had beaten Blacktown in the Minor Semi-final to advance.

Their only other appearance in the Super League semi-finals was two seasons earlier, in 1995. In that series Leichhardt met St George in the Elimination Semi-Final. With the match finishing 3-3 after extra time the two sides went to penalty kicks with the Tigers winning 5-4. But their luck ran out a week later when they met Blacktown City and after finishing extra time at 1-1 they lost 2-4 on penalties. Without a lot of recent Semi-Final experience Leichhardt will definitely be the dark horses for the finals. Finishing in the top three has given them a second chance and with a set of livewire forwards they could well cause some problems to th top two sides.

John Turner believes that the Tigers strength lies amongst their talented group of youngsters.

"The Tigers have a young side and it's their big defender Vuko Tomasevic who has really come of age and is ready to show his class. The side won't get over awed in the big games as they look to their experienced campaigners like Steve Karavatakis who always lifts a team in the big games."

ST GEORGE

Another team with a rich history in NSW soccer, it's been a long time between drinks for the once powerful Saints. Since 1992 the Saints have only appeared in one Semi-Final match when they finished fifth in the 1995 competition and faced a showdown with old nemesis Leichhardt in the Elimination Semi-Final. Unfortunately the match was decided on penalties after the two sides were locked 3-3 after extra time and they were bundled out 5-4.

Since that game the club has had an often tumultuous history finishing on the lower end of the Super League competition tables, until 1998 when the club was relegated to Division One. To the club's credit, the team has fought back and appeared in last season's Division One Semi-Final series ultimately finishing third, beaten again on penalties by the Penrith Panthers in the Preliminary Final.

But since their remergence in Super League the mood of the club has been completely different. Administrative and financial problems which have dogged the club in previous seasons have been replaced by a highly ambitious and slick committee who have done everything in their power to take St George back into the top echelon of clubs in NSW. Recruiting the equally ambitious John Sentas as coach has paid dividends as the side has made it back into the top five in their first season back.The work is far from over as they face a tough start against the Parramatta Eagles in the Elimination Semi-Final.

Former Canterbury coach John Xipolitas is one who think St George could be this season's dark horses.

"St George have got some good players with NSL experience and when you play them you can never underestimate their skill. If they can enlist the help of lady luck along the way they could well cause more than a few surprises."

JohnTurner agrees.

"St George are at their best when they press forward and apply pressure. Well organised with key personnel like Elias Augerinos in midfield to supply the forwards they can use the pace of their strikers in attack to great benefit."

Steve Karavatakis needs to fire for Leichhardt.

PARRAMATTA EAGLES

Another club with a strong history in NSW soccer, for the majority of the 1990s the Eagles plied their trade in National Soccer League. Since rejoining the Super League in 1996 the club has missed just one semi-final appearance in 1998 (when they finished 6th) showing they are still at the forefront of football in the State.

In their first season back in Super League (1996) the Eagles made it straight into the Grand Final when they finished on top of the competition table in the second half of the season under the one off first past the post system. In the Grand Final the Eagles met Adamstown and in a tight contest won the match 5-3 on penalties after the scores were locked 1-1 at fulltime.

In 1997 under current Bonnyrigg coach Doug Utjesenovic the Eagles blew all their opposition away when they won the Minor Premiership and the defeated Bonnyrigg 4-1 in the Major Semi-Final and 3-1 in the Grand Final to win the league double. Again last season the Eagles defied many critics with an inspired performance to make the Grand Final after finishing fifth in the regular season. Under coach Roberto Viera the Eagles convincingly beat Bankstown City 3-0 in the Elimination Semi-Final beat Macarthur 3-2 in extra time in the Minor Semi-Final before prevailing 5-2 on penalties over Bonnyrigg in the Preliminary Final. Unfortunately for their legion of fans the Eagles luck ran out in the Grand Final when they were humbled 5-1 by a fired up Blacktown City.

John Turner is one who insists that striker Adam Anderson must shoulder a lot of the responsibility if the Eagles are to have a successful 2000 campaign.

"Anderson must fire if the Eagles are to repeat their performance of last season. They have been known to sit back at times with their strength lying in a quick counterattack. Jason Holmes is another who has the experience and if he can roll his sleeves up he will be a very hard man to beat between the sticks."

What the Experts Say!

'Super Soccer' asked the experts for their tips on the outcome of the finals series.

- Danny Abboud (Caretaker Coach of Fairfield Bulls): The Grand Final will be between Blacktown and Bonnyrigg with the Demons to take first prize. Brian Brown has a squad full of depth and capable of consistent football.

- Stan Ackerley (Coach of Penrith Panthers): I can't see any team touching Blacktown. They are very well coached and have a good mixture of youth and experience.

- Brian Dene (Coach of Macarthur Rams): Definitely Blacktown City. The whole club is immensely strong, from their first team to their youth grades. The young players such as Jason Connolly and Mark Hagger combine well with the older heads such as Damien Foxe and Damon Langan.

- Jeremy Pettenon (Captain of Manly Warringah Dolphins): I would say that the final will be fought out between Blacktown and Bonnyrigg. I think that Blacktown will win because they perform well in big games.

- John Lavin (Coach of Sutherland Sharks): The winner will come from Blacktown, Bonnyrigg, or St George. I would lean towards the Demons because they are better organised and more disciplined than their opponents.

- Dale Eggleton (Coach of Central Coast): I feel that Central Coast this year could have defeated every team in the competition except for Blacktown and Bonnyrigg, so I expect these two teams to be in the big one. I think that Blacktown will win the Grand Final because they seem to be a class above all other sides in Super League.

- Mark Abi-Arrage (Captained Bankstown City Lions this year): Bonnyrigg to beat Blacktown in the final. Both teams have strong facets of play, but I think that the White Eagles passing game is exceptional.

- Yavuz Ekinci (Eastern Suburbs Wanderers): Blacktown. The Demons are stronger than last year whereas their likely challenger, Bonnyrigg, is a slightly weaker team than in 1999.

A late equaliser gave Eastern Suburbs a draw against a ten-men Parramatta Eagle side at Melita Stadium last Sunday.

Reduced in numbers after left wing-back Tony Mittiga was sent off midway through the first half for kicking, it looked like the Eagles had sealed a win when substitute defender Mark Reveley prodded home late in the game. However, in a mad last ten minutes, the Wanderers' Jimmy Aschner popped up with just minutes remaining to condemn the home side to their 14th draw of the season.

The Eagles weren't helped by the antics of their two wing-backs; Mittiga deservedly seeing red and therefore missing out on this week's finals match, while Scott Xuereb, who had been booked in the first half for a needless handball, was substituted after an altercation with the Eagles bench. In disgust Xuereb threw his shirt down and stormed straight off down the tunnel. There are number of youngsters that would be only too glad to wear the Eagles shirt that Xuereb showed scant respect.

A difficult season for Eastern Suburbs, forced away from their home ground of Wentworth Park late in the season, ended well on the field, as coach John Calleja said afterwards.

"I am happy with the boys. I am proud of the way they have performed during the season, especially with the few dramas we had towards the end of the season."

It was the Wanderers who showed first, and on 13 minutes, their leading scorer Aschner turned provider, whipping a cross over from the right. The cross was met by German Striker Axel Lorenz, whose inclusion in the team has coincided with his team's run of good form, but his header was superbly saved by Eagles goalkeeper Jason Holmes.

Just four minutes later though Ben Deighan beat Holmes and put his side 1-0 up with his fifth goal of the season. A fine build-up saw Deighan thread the ball through to Lorenz, but more importantly continue his run. Lorenz laid the ball back to him instantly, and Deighan was able to nick the ball ahead of Holmes, and fire in from a slight angle. Like Lorenz the Englishman is another player to impress recently in the Wanderers side, and after doing everything but score early in his career in Super League he started to find the net in recent weeks. The Super Soccer writer who bet he wouldn't score five goals this term is currently enjoying a meal of humble pie and a side dish of his favourite hat.

The lead lasted only six minutes for the Wanderers though, as they lost the ball when they had time to clear, and Suna Jim Kim played the ball through to Tom Bazdaric, who easily chipped the ball over the advancing Leo Premutico to make it 1-1.

Two minutes later it should have been 2-1 to the Eagles. Bazdaric strode through the middle of the field, and played the ball to Jim Kim, whose effort was saved well by Premutico. The ball bounced back to the Korean, and he squared the ball to Adam Anderson, who had just a defender on the line to knock the ball past. It looked easier to score than miss, but unfortunately for the Eagles Anderson tried curling the ball past the defender, which he did, but the ball clipped the upright and bounced away to safety. Mal Nicholls was enjoying a rare run in midfield where he looked comfortable, but minutes after Anderson's miss the Eagles came close again.

A long clearance found Dave Segreto struggling against the pace of Jim Kim, and he wasn't helped when he slightly stumbled, letting Jim Kim through on goal. The striker's second touch was awful though, and it let Premutico come out and get a sliding tackle of sorts in to force the ball away from danger. Instead of being one or two goals to the good the Eagles suddenly found themselves a man short just after the half hour mark when Mittiga was given his marching orders for aiming a kick at an opponent. Mittiga will be hoping that's not his last action of this season.

The Wanderers started to exploit the space left by Mittiga but were found wanting with their final ball, and the half time whistle would have been a relief to Eagles coach Roberto Viera, who could reorganise his team. Both teams squandered early chances in the half, but the clearest of them all came after 57 minutes. Deighan did well to find Aschner on the left-hand side, and his perfect cross was met on the half volley by Lorenz from about 5 metres out, only for the striker to somehow side-foot over the bar when it looked almost impossible to do so.

A couple of minutes later Deighan missed a good chance when he was unable to control the ball first time, and his shot went tamely wide. Lorenz then fired over after a lovely header by Aschner had set him up for a shot, and then Holmes got a touch on another Aschner cross, doing enough to deflect the ball past the shaved heads of Lorenz and Nicholls.

Parramatta were still looking to get forward, and their positive approach paid off with just seven minutes remaining. A corner from the right saw Premutico unable to gather the ball, and Reveley, as he so often does, put the ball away for what looked like the winning goal. Premutico appealed that he had been fouled when trying to gather the cross, but referee Simon Micallef would have none of it.

With just minutes remaining Eastern Suburbs got a deserved equaliser, Craig Sharpley smashing a free kick through the defensive wall. Holmes appeared to have the ball covered until it took a slight deflection, and while he did well to get his hand to the ball it bobbled up and straight onto the head of Aschner, who nodded home.

With seconds left the Wanderers got the ball into the net for what looked to have been the winning goal, and a fitting end to a mad finish to the game, but the referee's assistant had ruled offside.

John Calleja commented afterwards, "I was a little bit disappointed that we didn't take advantage of the extra man, but full credit to Parramatta and good luck to them in the finals." Parramatta coach Roberto Viera said he was happy with his team's performance given that they had played for nearly 60 minutes a man short, but said that it was sudden death as from now.

"We need every player, all eleven, to turn up and really play as from next week," said Viera, "it's no good say nine or ten players turning up to play, we need all eleven as we will be up against some very good teams."

There will be no draws when they play St George this week in the final series, and no second chances either for either team. As Viera said though, there will be no major changes for the Eagles - it's too late for change and experiment now.

Super League Round 26

Leichhardt Tigers v St George Saints

Lambert Park, 2 July

Leichhardt, 0 - St George 2 (Papadopoulos 48', Petratos 76')

Leichhardt: Woods, Macolino, Dowling, Lansdown, Boutros, Bruni (80' Bulgin), Tesoro (80' Corte), Karavatakis (45' Falas), Talcevski, Nolan, Barataud

St George: Alogdellis, Maglis (80' Ohan), Verrender, Kladis, Palapanis, Sevares (80' Nakayma), Petrovski (45' Papadopoulos), Petratos, Augerinos, Galea, Leris

Just a month ago, Super League fans had pencilled in the final round clash between the Leichhardt Tigers and St George Saints as a vital match which may decide who finishes third, but after four matches without a win the Saints came to Lambert Park having already conceded third place to the Tigers. To coach John Sentas' relief, the Saints came away with a 2-0 victory over an experimental Leichhardt line-up, although the manner of the win was far from convincing.

For the unfortunate spectators of this dull affair, it was clear from the kick-off that the outcome of the match mattered little to either side, with the game played at an intensity more in keeping with a pre-season practice match.

The Tigers began with three first-timers in the starting line-up: John Paul Boutros, Andrew Nolan and Frenchman Alain Barataud, while Chris Lansdown enjoyed his first start in a long while. Some slopping Saints defending saw Lansdown with the best of the first half chances, as he found himself in space behind the defence on several occasions, but lacked the sharpness to capitalise.

While the Saints enjoyed their share of possession, the makeshift striking partnership of Petratos and Petrovski made little impression - the Saints best chances coming from speculative long range shots from Max Sevares and Kladis.

There was only a little more interest in the second half, mainly thanks to the inclusion of Steve Papadopoulos up front for the Saints. It took him just 3 minutes to show what can be achieved with a little endeavour when he latched onto a loose ball just outside the area, got a toe in ahead of a Tigers defenders three times in succession, and then poked the ball home from eight yards.

On 76 minutes, Papadopoulos was again involved. In a comedy of errors, Tigers keeper Shaun Woods attempted to put the ball out of play so that teammate Anthony Tesoro could receive attention, but mis-placed instead found Papadopoulos alone in the area. The Saints striker wasted no time in setting up Petratos for an easy header home.

For Tigers coach Les de Celis "the result was not important today. We wanted to look at a few of the 21s. But I will be disappointed if we don't beat Bonnyrigg next week."

John Sentas felt "the win gives us a bit of confidence." With a win and draw against Parramatta Eagles, he thinks the Saints have a good chance to see off the Eagles next week.

Penrith Panthers v Bonnyrigg

Andrews Road Field, Sunday 2 July

Penrith Panthers, 3 (B Casserley 11m A Picken 31m D Hinton 49m) - Bonnyrigg White Eagles, 5 (J Ghisso 8m C Luff 41/72/89m S Van Bentum 82m)

Super Soccer rating: 4

A very entertaining high scoring contest that appeared to be heading towards Penrith before a couple of late goals to Bonnyrigg.

For Bonnyrigg, Colin Luff scored a hat trick to go with a single strike from Johnny Ghisso and Stewart Van Bentum.

Penrith's three goal scorers were Rob Casserly, Allan Picken and Danny Hinton.

Best for Bonnyrigg were Luff, Van Bentum and Green; while for Penrith, Bob Casserly, Wright, Necevski and Martin Driene.

The Bulls final game for the season was a disappointing fizzer, losing 6-3 against premiers Blacktown.

The game started on fire with both teams attacking. IN the first ten minutes, Fairfield Bulls missed two golden chances through Borg and Hoenselaars and Blacktown missed through Hagger and Brown.

The Bulls opened the scoring with a glancing header from Borg. However, within two minutes Blacktown scored twice by Hagger.

The second half opened up in the same fashion with lots of goals to come. Firstly, Bulls' Borg missed a sitter, then Blacktown's Bradley also missed an early chance. Blacktown then scored twice through Hagger and Donev. The Bulls scored once through Huseyin but it was Hagger's day. He scored his fourth goal. The Bulls were not finished however, with Darren Iocca scoring with a great diving header followed by another goal from Brown for Blacktown.

It was a highly entertaining game, but Fairfield Bulls are disappointed at finishing sixth two seasons in a row.

The spectators who braved the rainsqualls certainly got value for money in this exciting end to end match. It was a game that could have gone either way and featured any number of goals such was the quantity of goalmouth action.

The first 20 minutes looked set to be a familiar story for the Sharks as the visitors deservedly took a 2-0 lead. This after Ryan Marshall had struck the post with his shot from the edge of the box on 12 minutes. The first goal arrived just a minute later when three Coasties players exchanged neat short passes on the edge of the area, checkmating the Sharks defence and allowing Shaun Matthews an easy goal. Soon after Marshall was again in the action when he picked up slotted home after Dennes Olla failed to hold a free kick that had bounced awkwardly in front of him.

But just as the Coasties looked like they were going to run away with the game, great work by the Sharks' Clint Harrod down the left flank culminated in a pinpoint cross that allowed Stuart Porter the chance to ghost past his marker and power a header into the net. Porter playing his last game for the Sharks before retirement (again) was obviously intent on going out with a bang and a few moments later he combined with Phil Wurth before unleashing a low hard shot against the near post of keeper Darren Moore that ricocheted to safety.

Just 7 minutes into the second half Porter was at it again. This time Wayne Gibson, who not for the first time combined well with Porter, was the provider. His sensational chip over Moore from an acute angle left the keeper stranded and allowed Porter the chance to dive full length and launch a header into an empty net. The heavy rain that suddenly started to pour down at the very moment the goal was scored leaving some observers to wonder if it was an omen for either team or indeed the veteran striker.

With the scores at 2-2 and most of the half yet to play more goals seemed certain but despite much frenetic action and a number of yellow cards as desire for maximum points intensified, there was to be no addition to the scoreboard.

Central Coast will look back on their season with some satisfaction realising that if they can sort out their dismal home record, they can be genuine force to be reckoned with.

Sutherland for their part can take much heart from a performance in which they showed much determination and indeed considerable ability when in possession of the ball.

Bankstown City Lions v Canterbury Marrickville Berries

The first half was a scoreless affair with Berries defender Matt Percy wearing Ian McDonald like a glove and Canterbury's dangerman Jim Nikas restricted to the wings.

Canterbury did look the more threatening side once Adrian Molachino began pushing forward, but hesitancy in front of goal hindered Jim Patikas' side.

In the second half, Nikas went straight down the middle of Bankstown's defence, but the Lions managed to get numbers behind the ball to keep Canterbury out. At the other end, Berries goalkeeper Jose Bello Amigo defied Bankstown's attackers with another excellent display.

This game marked Bankstown's last game in the Super League prior to the commencement of the NSW Premier League in the summer.

Bankstown coach Billy McColl is pleased with the way the Lions have responded to his coaching style after he took over from Ljube Jancev mid-season.

"It was a difficult task replacing Ljube but new ideas were tried, the players gave 100% effort and as a result the club has achieved some positive results. As for me, this was my last game in charge of the Lions. I've enjoyed my time at Jensen Park and leave on excellent terms."

SEMI-FINALS PREVIEW

It's the business end of the Super League season with the first week of the semi-final series set down for decision this weekend. Congratulations are in order to Brian Brown and his Demons for clinching the League Minor Premiership and earning themselves that all important week off.

On  the Elimination Semi-Final takes placed between the fourth placed St George Saints and the fifth place Parramatta Eagles at ***.

This match is sudden death, so they'll be no beg your pardons or second chances issues in what looks likes a cracker of a match on paper. Fourteen Draws in the twenty six matches through the regular season has just about summed up the Eagles season. For all their hard work they have only lost three games in total which is the same number of losses that Blacktown City encountered on their way to finishing in top spot. It is interesting to note that all three of the sides losses have come at the expense of the other Semi-Final sides, Blacktown, Bonnyrigg and their combatants this week, St. George.

Against Eastern Suburbs last weekend the Eagles worked hard and deserved their draw considering they lost wing back Anthony Mittiga to a straight red card midway through the first half. Mittiga will be watching this weeks proceedings from a seat in the grandstand and with the other wing back Scott Xuereb looking doubtful for the clash it appears coach Roberto Viera may have to look through his squad in a bid to solve a problem on both flanks. Adam Anderson and Nikolce Joseski have been the two star strikers for the Eagles and their contribution up front will be very important in the outcome of this match. The Eagles like to play a patient game and break quickly on the counterattack. Its a style that has served them well this season but against a St George side that also prides itself on its discipline in defence it will be very interesting to see just what defence cracks first.

It is interesting that St George are one of only three sides to have beaten the Eagles and that point is one which is not lost on their coach John Sentas or the Saints team. After struggling in recent weeks to record anything better than a draw, a makeshift Saints side dominated the Tigers in the second half at Lambert Park last Sunday to notch their first win in the last six starts. Going into their first Semi-Finals series for five seasons that was not the form coach John Sentas was looking for but he is quick to point out that the confidence has returned to the Saints camp.

"The win last win gives us a lot of confidence going into the Semi-Finals but we are not going to underestimate the Eagles at all. Our game last week was good and the way we played in the second half to score two goals and keep the Tigers scoreless was what we needed."

Former Minotaurs goalkeeper Stacey Alogdellis was solid between the sticks which gives Sentas a coaching dilemma on which 'keeper to pick but the big game experience of Les Bihari looks certain to weigh in his favour.

Sentas also rested livewire strikers Emmanuel Papageorgiou and Jimmy Bakis from the Tigers game last weekend and gave utility player Evangelos Petratos an oppurtunity to show his wares upfront. His contribution was first class but it again looks certain he will return into the defensive line to make way for his other two teammates. With experience often being the decisive factor in big games Elias Augerinos and Terry Palapanis really hold the key for the Saints as they look to hold together the defensive line. It promises to be a great game and it could well be the bounce of the ball or lady luck that decides the outcome to this important match.

On  at  the other semi-final sees the second placed Bonnyrigg White Eagles take on the Leichhardt Tigers for the right to meet Minor Premiers Blacktown City a week later in the Major Semi-Final. Unlike the Elimination Semi-Final there is a next week for the loser but for the winner there is the added incentive of a double chance and a direct route to the Grand Final to play for.

Bonnyrigg have been a club in crisis of late when last season's Super League Coach of the Year John Turner an the club parted company. Since that tumultuous decision stability has returned to the Serbian Centre with former Eagles coach Doug Utjesenovic returning to oversee the last three matches and another shot at the championship. Utjesenovic has been very happy with the way his side has been travelling since his arrival, racking up 16 goals in three matches and conceding just five.

Striker Colin Luff has scored half of those goals knocking up a hat-trick for the second succesive week following on from a brace the week prior against Bankstown. With Robbie Gomez and Johnny Ghisso also starting to hit top form its a menacing side for the Tigers to face.

The games between these two sides this year have been evenly shared. Leichhardt won their round two meeting at the Serbian Centre 3-2 but lost at home 3-1 in round sixteen. That match was way back on April 16th and a lot of water has passed under the bridge since then. For the Tigers their main strength also lies in their attack with goalscoring dynamo Steve Karavatakis ably assisted by the likes of Joe Bruni and Chris Lansdown who was very impressive last week against the Saints. In defence youngster Vuko Tomasevic has been prominant and his work with James Stubbs-Mills, Fabio Macolino and co will need to be spot on if the Tigers are to win. Andrew Nicol the former Ryde City player has also returned to the squad fully fit after suffering a hairling fracture to his skull a few weeks back and he will give Leichhardt coach Les DeCelis another option on the park.

To pick the winner of this game is again extremely difficult but one thing is certain the quality of football on display this weekend will be first class and it will be well worth the effort for football fans of all clubs to get down and see one or both of these two great games.

PEPSI YOUTH LEAGUE DIVISION 1

Nepean v AC United
Cook Park, Saturday 1 July

Under 16s

Nepean, 1- AC United, 2

Super Soccer rating: 2

Summary: A close contest between teams at opposite ends of the ladder. Nepean started slowly and let in two goals. Nepean then put their game together and scored a great goal by Thom and were unlucky not to equalise. Good games by Kevin Thoms and Mathew Forth, and player of the match was Daniel Rosier.

Under 15s

Nepean, 0 - AC United, 1

Super Soccer rating: 3

Summary: A game Nepean deserved to at least come away with a draw. Last placed Nepean played a controlled game and were probably the better side. The whole team played well, but Chris Levy and Shaun Maroney deserve special mentions. Player of the match was Ryan Hunter.

Under 14s

Nepean, 8 - AC United, 0

Super Soccer rating: 5

Summary: A great team game by Nepean's Under 14s. The players passed the ball around and came away decisive winners. The whole team played well.

Under 13s

Nepean, 0 - AC United, 1

Super Soccer rating: 3

Summary: A game Nepean should have at least come away with a draw. Nepean lifted themselves and matched a good AC Unite team. Good games by Jason Aspland, Brad Perkins, Michael Mann with player of the match to Kendal Perkins.

PRESIDENT

PO BOX 61, VAUCLUSE NSW 2030

Congratulations to the Socceroos who recently won the Oceania Nations Cup in Tahiti, after defeating their regular nemesis, New Zealand, 2-0 in the Final on 28 June.

Division One 2000

with Paul Goodwin

Round 18

Attention was focussed on two key games last weekend.

Leaders Dulwich Hill were to find the strong MSC Liverpool (formerly Moorebank) too hard a nut to crack with three key players missing and went down 1-0 at Hammondville Park on Saturday afternoon.

Dulwich had Tom Pontidas and Mal Bideau both out suspended and George Kalogeras missing due to a bereavement, but their latest form has been patchy and this was to be their second loss in three matches, two in a row on their travels.

MSC by contrast may be out of a slump with this result which brings them back into finals' contention after a mid-season sticky patch.

Play in the first half was allowed to flow nicely by the referee and there was plenty of excitement at both ends in a very even contest. Joe Correnti hit the post for the home side in the 35th, while MSC keeper Adam Confoy began very shakily and almost allowed Dulwich in after dropping a cross at the feet of Louis Dounis who squandered the opportunity.

Dulwich also hit the woodwork and were right in the game, but it needed a goal and it arrived in the 67th minute. Scott Watkins delivered a through ball to substitute Fabian Screpis, who had just come on as substitute and with his first touch he drew out the defence by threading a ball through for Brett Hewit to go on and lob the keeper. Hewit also missed an open goal in the 80th.

The win was achieved thanks to sound work in the middle by Adam Mammoliti and it was also an excellent result considering the side was missing the services of skipper Peter Moon, Josh Wells and Steve Liavas on this occasion.

Bathurst 75 is another side to recover from a very poor start to the season and their 1-0 win over Auburn United in the Central West the same day was their second in a row, but only their fifth of the season. The reliable Adam Collins struck on the hour to send Auburn home pointless after Bathurst won the two earlier grades for the day.

Stanmore Hawks got goals at the very start and the very end of their game with second placed Hajduk Wanderers at Arlington Oval, to draw 2-2, while A C United came back strongly to hold Rockdale 1-1 at the Soccer Centre in Arncliffe.

Hurstville City beat Ryde 3-0 in a game switched to Ernie Smith Reserve and Fraser Park moved ominously close to the top five clubs with a 4-1 win over visiting Illawarra Lions.

The Lions, who did not arrive until after the scheduled kick off time, found themselves 3-0 down early with Neil Cogger, twice, and David James netting for Fraser before Marshall Soper put a free kick past the wall moments before the break. Ben Burrows added a fourth for Fraser in the second half to give his side a third win on the trot.

Sunday's game between long standing rivals Hurstville and Ryde was switched to Ernie Smith Reserve, the scene of many an epic clash in the past.

On a bitterly cold (and at times wet) Sunday afternoon at Ernie Smith Reserve, Hurstville City Minotaurs staged a hard fought recovery to defeat a relentless Ryde City outfit who never gave up.

The whistle certainly didn't go the Gunners' way as the normally 'clean' Gunners were handed seven yellow cards in a frantic second half revival. As has happened so often in the past, Hurstville City scored an early goal - a fourth minute 'slotter' by an unmarked Husseyin Bayhan on the edge of the six yard box - but after a couple of positional changes by coach John McKie, the Gunners suddenly came alive. Content to take breakaway opportunities, the Minotaurs sustained concerted Ryde pressure for most of the second half as the Gunners pressed for the equaliser. Crosses from both right and left failed to find markers in the middle and inaccurate finishing wasted good buildups by Ryde. In extra time and dim light, Hurstville found the net twice more to give them a somewhat flattering 3-0 scoreline, their goals coming from Spiro Kladis and Manuel Sarikakis.

For Hurstville excellent games were had by captain Sam Panagakos, forward Manuel Sarikakis and the diminutive Spiro Kladis. For the Gunners, youngsters Ryan Butler and Will Mailer produced touches of brilliance, while at the back, Erkan Elveren as sweeper showed deliberation and coolness under determined Minotaur attack. "Our own worst enemies", was the summing up, aptly put, by Ryde coach McKie after the match.

The first half of A C United's visit to Rockdale belonged to the home side who had a strong wind at their backs and looked the sharper of the two teams. In the end a 1-1 draw was a fair result for both sides.

Former Rockdale man Enzo Sansone was one of the better players on parade on this occasion.

Division One 2000

Looking to Round 19

DULWICH HILL will entertain BATHURST on Saturday at Arlington Oval wary of the visitors' ability to pick up unexpected points and go into the game needing those to keep the hounds at bay.

Their main rivals for the title, HAJDUK WANDERERS, are engaged the same day when MSC LIVERPOOL are the Saturday visitors to Hajduk Stadium in the heart of soccer land, St Johns' Park.

This should be a beauty as both teams are playing well and the MSC team already has a victory over Hajduk to their credit this season. At least three members of the visiting team were seen to be taking a keen interest in proceedings at Hajduk's last game and will show even more involvement here.

This is a vital game for Hajduk who must not drop any more points if they are to press Dulwich for the title. MSC Liverpool, by contrast, are back in form and ready to make their move into the five, so this win is essential to them too. Chances of this ending in a draw must be strong, but Hajduk's home advantage should see them just have the edge and claim the three points.

ILLAWARRA LIONS have been having a few problems of late and face a rejuvenated STANMORE HAWKS at Ian McLennan Park. The Lions found Fraser Park a little too tough last Sunday, but are always a different proposition on their own turf. If Stanmore can play the excellent passing game which served them so well over the last couple of matches, they should win, now showing signs of confidence and flair to go with their traditional endeavour.

The other big game is just across the other side of Fairfield at Abruzzi Oval where A C UNITED meet FRASER PARK.

Fraser is going for four straight and have had some big scoring matches to please their supporters lately. Fraser hasn't lost a match since round ten and will be looking to stretch that unbeaten run still further here. A C is a good side, but lacks the extra hunger to claim maximum points in some of their games. A win here would be a huge boost for them and that outcome would certainly help keep Fraser at arm's length.

We expect a few goals in this one, but it could just go the way of the home side.

HURSTVILLE CITY MINOTAURS and ROCKDALE do battle in a local derby at Hurstville Oval which is a chance for Rockdale to stay in the honours' race as well as gaining some local prestige.

These Minotaurs usually prove very hard to beat at headquarters, while Rockdale have been a little inconsistent in the last month or two.

AUBURN UNITED returned from Bathurst pointless in all three grades last Saturday after a long trip over the snow-filled roads of the Central West. RYDE CITY will be paying a visit to Mona Park with a few points under their belt now, but not much luck in many other games this season which have gone the other way by narrow margins.

This game is sure to be a tough one for both teams, with Ryde missing players due to injury and Auburn one of the more inconsistent teams in the division.

BATHURST 75 have had some good results lately, including two wins in succession and home draws with strong clubs Fraser Park and Stanmore. Why then should they fear AUBURN UNITED?

Merely because Auburn are the enigmas of the division who have pulled off some surprise wins this season and are always good upset material.

This is one of the two Saturday matches and could go either way.

MSC LIVERPOOL are going to prove formidable opposition for leaders DULWICH HILL at Hammondville Park in the other Saturday match. Dulwich will still be without playmaker and sometime striker Tom Pontidas, who is serving the second week of a two game suspension, but with George 'Nipper' Kalogeras expected back to guide the backline maybe Bill Pilovski's side can return to winning ways.

This match is another Dulwich cannot afford to drop points in and is on a knife-edge. A draw does look very likely unless either defence crumbles.

STANMORE HAWKS put up a very impressive performance to snatch a point against Dulwich Hill last weekend after having a player sent off half an hour into the game. A repeat of that effort against main title challengers HAJDUK WANDERERS might convince the Hawks' supporters that their team indeed still does possess a chance of making the finals' series.

New French-Cameroon striker Fred Fouda Onana has given the side extra impact up front and the squad has a decent look about it now with the very popular Eddie Wong showing plenty of speed and ambition on the flanks and up front. Both Lara brothers are firing well and getting into scoring positions repeatedly as well as winning lots of ball in midfield, which against Dulwich Hill kept them in the game and allowed them to draw level in the dying seconds.

Hajduk, by contrast, had the disappointment of being Fraser Park's second victims in two weeks from the top two sides and that was no fluke, it seems.

FRASER PARK are back at headquarters, facing the redoubtable ILLAWARRA LIONS with a mission to move ever upwards and into the top five after a slow start to the campaign.

Fraser have hardly been a model of consistency this term and stringing three wins in a row together, even against a moderately performed side as the Lions is not going to be easy. The last time the teams met Illawarra held this side to a draw on the South Coast and they will again look to give little away.

ROCKDALE have really dropped off the pace and their home record this season has slumped in the last few weeks. Visiting A C UNITED know that winning at the Soccer Centre will not be easy, but it is time for all their big guns to fire and put Rockdale to the sword. A high scoring and entertaining game is in prospect there with the absence of the division's top scorer Spase Najdoski due to suspension likely to swing the odds in A C's favour.

HURSTVILLE CITY got up to beat RYDE CITY with a late winner in Huseyin Bayhan's debut match which took place at Upper Eastwood Oval. The return game at Hurstville Oval is likely to be just as keenly contested and no easier to predict. Ryde were out of luck against Bathurst last week, while Hurstville found A C United too sharp at Blick Oval. Both sides have good reason to want a win out of this one and for that reason it looks a banker draw.

SECOND DIVISION 2000

by Paul Goodwin

Last weekend

Second Division leaders Greystanes stumbled 3-1 away to White City, but the chasing clubs beneath them all failed to capitalise.

Darren Crittenden gave the visitors the lead with a typical headed finish in the 10th minute, but Trabajic came up with an equaliser a minute before the break to put the home side back in the hunt. Costello Hog then put White City ahead in the 70th and a further goal from Radovan Filipovic, scoring as freely now as he did in his Avala days, in the 80th sealed the points at Chisholm Park.

Hurstville ZSC could only draw 0-0 with fifth placed Mount Druitt and Mount Pritchard shared the spoils with Belmore 1-1 at Blick Oval.

The game against Belmore was another game where goalscoring let the Mounties down. Mounties had control of the first half and it showed on the scoreboard after they hit the lead in the 10th minute through Clinton Green who smartly placed the ball in the corner from outside of the box.

The second half, however, was a different story with Belmore putting constant pressure on Mounties but not getting away many shots on goals. Mounties on the other hand had numerous chances on the counter attack to finish the game, but failed to finish and with only 10 minutes left in the game Belmore struck the equaliser through D Lee, though the visitors had another late chance to put away the winner, but missed a one on one and left the game standing 1-1at fulltime.

Hills United also failed to better University of NSW in another 1-1 stalemate at Fred Caterson Reserve.

The main supply of goals for the day all came at Central Coast Lakers who put eight past bottom placed Sydney District without reply. Chris Smith nabbed four of the eight with the first two and the last two of the game, putting his side one up inside five minutes. In between Josh Prebble, Steve Hodson and John Peros all found the net for the home side whose new stadium is coming along well and which looks like being ready by August now.

Saturday saw one game played, Sydney University accounting for challengers Hakoah 4-0 at St Pauls College.

The result left Sydney Uni in third spot overnight, with fifth-placed Mount Druitt in action at second-placed Hurstville on the Sunday looking to move above them again, but being unable to do so.

Looking to Round 19

MT DRUITT plays WHITE CITY on Saturday at Popondetta Park in a game that could be vital for their finals' hopes.

Town Rangers have been threatening to make a move on the leaders for weeks now, but whenever they look about to pounce they drop another point or two and have to start thinking again.

This White City side has been a much tidier outfit since Tom Mihajlovic took over as coach and is still scoring goals as well. Their win against Greystanes was not a total surprise and while they will certainly find it harder to win on the road at the Emerton complex, will make life very hard for Mount Druitt who will do well to take maximum points.

UNI OF NSW meets CENTRAL COAST LAKERS, also on Saturday, coming off a valuable draw at Hills United last weekend. Back at David Phillips Field the Wales may feel more at home, but are sure to find the Lakers buoyant after another big win at home last Sunday.

Lakers have discovered a taste for goals and the winning habit is a good one too. They won well at Mount Pritchard and also snatched a draw at Greystanes so should not be daunted by the students.

We are expecting a very good contest and are not game to pick the outcome of this one at all.

GREYSTANES are back at Bathurst Street Park after some poor recent results have seen their lead whittled back to just 4 points. In SYDNEY UNIVERSITY they meet a very strong and in-form opponent on Sunday and will expect a very tough encounter. The Stanes must be wondering how long it will be before someone catches them and it is the college kids who seem most likely to do so as the season draws to a close. Sound form recently, apart from one shock loss, makes Sydney Uni the form side and Bathurst Street regulars will be on edge until this one is played and won.

MT PRITCHARD and HURSTVILLE ZSC are the two sides favoured to challenge Greystanes most strongly earlier in the campaign and both are still in the hunt. Hurstville should have been closer than they are but a couple of silly lapses have left them just short. If they are to get past the leaders this represents their last big chance. Should they win this then there is still plenty to do, but lose it and the chance may be gone for good. Mounties are young and full of drive, whereas Hurstville love to move the ball around elegantly and the contrast in styles will be interesting here. The last time the sides met Hurstville won convincingly. They will need an equally authoritative showing here.

SYDNEY DISTRICT faces BELMORE who are showing signs of regaining early season form and a win is very much on the cards here too.

Belmore have been missing numerous players this season. At various stages some have missed a few games while others have been out for most of the season.

George Ganiatsas has retired, the Solidakis brothers are overseas and Tim Preston, John Christou, Jim Magiasis, Roger Conroy, among others have been on the injured list. Coach Chris Karatzis has done a very good job in the circumstances and the recent inclusion of Paul Carter has been a big boost to the club, the former St George player coming in to help his old friend and fellow coach until the end of the campaign.

HAKOAH are a different side at the Sydney Athletic Field and visitors HILLS UNITED expect a hard game this Sunday, despite Hakoah's 4-0 loss last weekend. On their day Hakoah is a classy outfit and back to full strength here should be too good for Fred Mesiti's side from the north western suburbs.

Sydney Olympic secured a finals spot after easily disposing of Northern Spirit 5-1 at Christie Park.

That result, and Wollongong's loss at home to the Sutherland Sharks, saw Olympic leap-frog the Wolves and finish in sixth spot on the ladder - one place behind their opponents Northern Spirit.

Despite going a goal down against the run of play on 19 minutes, Olympic hit back a minute later to equalise, and then goals either side of the break sealed a deserved win.

It was all the visitors early on, Olympic having three efforts on goal early in the game but all were from distance and caused little panic in the Spirit defence.

Spirit goalkeeper Tristan Akehurst wasn't called into action though until the 9th minute, but he was equal to the task when he was, saving superbly a free kick from the impressive Dimeglio. Dimeglio hit an effort from 25 metres out that seemed to be heading for the top corner, but Akehurst managed to push the ball around the post for a corner.

It was against the run of play therefore that the Spirit opened the scoring for the match. A ball from the right-hand side of the field was missed by everyone except Tom O'Dell, who easily side-footed home from close range. Any hopes the Spirit had of building on that were thwarted however, when Dimeglio worked his way through the heart of the Spirit defence and prodded a shot goalwards. Akehurst did well to stick a foot out and stop the ball going in, however all he could do was steer it into the path of Georgiadu, who rolled the ball into the empty net.

It looked like the teams would go in all level at the break, until a superb goal by Sydney Olympic right on the stroke of half-time gave them the advantage. A cross from the left saw two Spirit defenders guilty of not attacking the ball, but midfielder Aligiannis did exactly that, and then had the vision to lift the ball over the stranded Akehurst for a fine goal.

Two goals in five minutes after the restart sealed the win for the visitors. The first came just two minutes into the second period, and it was all down to Noorzad. He won a tackle in the opponents penalty area, and when the ball came back to him he fired in a fine shot from 15 metres out. The 3-1 lead was soon increased to 4-1, with Olympic being helped by some horrible defending by Spirit. After turning down numerous chances to clear a cross from the right was nearly turned into his own net by a Spirit defender, but Dimeglio was there to make sure for a well-deserved goal for the big number 10.

The final goal of the game saw Dimeglio turn provider, crossing from the left for Georgiadu to plant a header into the back of the net after Akehurst had misjudged the flight of the ball.

It was a comprehensive win by a Sydney Olympic team that on the day proved to be slightly stronger in the tackle, and were able to finish their chances to great effect. Although the Spirit had a slightly weaker team than normal on the field with their finals spot already secure they will need to erase this defeat from memory if they are to progress through the final series.

There were two exciting developments in NSW soccer in the past week.

Last Sunday, twelve outstanding players either from New South Wales, or with a strong connection to New South Wales, were honoured when streets in the Valentine Gardens estate were named after them. In an exclusive ceremony at NSWSF headquarters, the players were also presented with a duplicate street sign.

The players are Atti Abonyi, Graham Arnold, Ray Baartz, Reg Date, John Kosmina, Ron Lord, Manfred Schaefer, Anissa Tann-Darby, John Warren, John Watkiss, Peter Wilson, and Charlie Yankos.

Assistant Socceroo coach, and Northern Spirit coach, Graham Arnold, said that it was an "honour" to have a street named after him.

"It's a very unique way of the sport remembering some of its players and I'm looking forward to telling someone to look me up in the UBD!" quipped Arnold.

On Tuesday 4 July, Socceroo captain Paul Okon, was at Marrickville Oval to announce three new player medals for the Pepsi Super Youth League and Pepsi Super Cadet League.

Okon is a former cadet league and youth league player himself, who also represented New South Wales from Under 13 age groups upwards. He played with Marconi in the NSL before leaving for overseas at a relatively young age to play with Brugge (Belgium), Lazio and Fiorentina (Italy) and, with the English Premier League season to start in August, Middlesborough.

With the help of some players from Canterbury Marrickville's cadet and youth league teams, Okon announced that he and two of his Socceroo team mates, who are also from New South Wales, are putting their name to the:

- Paul Okon Medal for Player of the Year in Pepsi Super Youth League
- Mark Bosnich Medal for Goalkeeper of the Year in Pepsi Super Youth League, and
- Harry Kewell Medal for Player of the Year in Pepsi Super Cadet League.

Each Medal will carry with it a prize of $500 (provided by the players) to assist the player with soccer expenses - be they new boots, a training camp or clothing.

"We all have a strong commitment and belief in the future of Australian football and if we can help encourage young players to keep going, we're delighted to be able to do so.

"While my team mates in the Australian squad are focussing on the World Cup 2002, a real measure of soccer's success is continuing to make it to the World Cup - in other words, being like Brazil where no-one ever doubts that we'll make it each time. It's important that talented young players keep coming through the club, and as the biggest State, NSW has an important role to play.

"Mark, Harry and I all learnt the basics of our football here in New South Wales and we have many interesting memories of Parklea between us! It's great to be able to put something back into the game in this way," said Okon.
